

Principle of social responsibility

Purpose.

Our company is developing and manufacturing certified biodynamic products and for the dissemination of knowledge of how to use organic standards and biodynamic standards.

Principles in practice.

We respect equal opportunities independent of ethnic background, creed and gender and the requirements of the International Labour Organisation.

Every month we pay the CO2 offset after the gross weight of delivered Demeter quality cosmetics using air transportation to our Canadian partner.

We support Jane Goodall Institute in Hungary, which financially and voluntarily supports palm oil free causes and protects primates and the well-being of living water organisms. We received permission from Jane Goodall to display their logo on our S.L.S. and S.L.E.S. free products.

We believe that environmental consciousness and sustainability could be more efficient with the use of Demeter standards.

We hope that in the close future: more and more business owners will understand the importance of eliminating social inequity, because it is as important as environmental consciousness.

As a part of this self-declaration, we confirm that these guidelines of „Biodynamic Federation-Demeter International e. V – Principle of social responsibility” have been met.
